

This Week in Our Classroom

Adjei CLASS

Adejis' class created thoughtful remembrance artwork inspired by real artifacts shared by the headteacher. Each piece reflects respect, memory, and gratitude, weaving history into creative expression. Pupils used the artifacts as stimulus to honour sacrifice, producing meaningful work that connects past experiences with present reflection in a powerful, collective tribute.

Kay CLASS

Our Primary K learners have been busy strengthening their fine motor skills this week! Through playful activities like threading beads, cutting with scissors, building with blocks, and practicing pencil grip, the children are developing the small muscle movements that help with writing, self-care, and creativity.

WELCOME

This week we have been proud to celebrate success at Brightmet School.

All students have participated in Children in Need art creations and today has seen our hall transformed into carnival activities for all students

Our Newsletter will be issued fortnightly.

Carol

Staff Hall of Fame

Kia, our dedicated pastoral support, provides guidance, care, and encouragement, ensuring every student feels valued, supported, and understood daily.

Announcements

BOOK APPEAL

If parents / carers wish to donate books to our school library we would welcome those donations.

